Patterns of life's progressions

we envision fragments of the past

With every passing day . . .
as this continuous cycle moves on,
new images come into view,
images of worldly patterns.
We are each a part of . . .
this changing design of life,
for we too are . . .
ever-changing patterns.
Within ourselves . . .
are thousands of pieces which we have gathered throughout our lives.

English Skills Challenged

The English Department of Sherman High School is different this year from any other year. The reason for the change is Keys to English Mastery workbook, which was adopted by the Sherman School Board and English Department to improve skills in grammar, writing communication, and proficiency in the language use of high school students.

The workbooks go into detailed studies concerning writing, practice for composition, exercises for library skills, and basic grammar skills. The Board of Education felt that each student could use the books to better their education.

However, this is not the first year to use a book of this type. The books were used as a pilot program for the freshmen last year and proved successful.

Students enrolled in grades 4-12 are required to use one level of the English grammar workbooks. The total amount spent on the workbooks at S.H.S. was $4,000, a little over $2 a book.

"The new books are hard enough to give us a challenge," and "I feel that this is exactly what we need," commented a few S.H.S. students. Other students opinions are: Scott Emory, junior, "I don't mind working in these workbooks because if we weren't doing the books, we would be doing something else. They review things that I have forgotten."

Kim Tally, sophomore, "It's not the most exciting part of my day. It has keys to explain itself, some of it's hard; some of it's easy."

Karen Bishop, freshman, "I feel the new workbooks are good. I like it a lot better than working in books. The good points are the keys in the middle of the book! They help a lot."

Denise Haliburton, senior, "I really like them because they teach me things about grammar I don't know, and that will help me in college."

Mrs. Nancy Jones is explaining an exercise in Keys to English Mastery to Christy Faulkner.

Jannie Gibson takes notes before starting to work in her new workbook.

Sherrie Douglas, Randy Price, Randall Babb, Christi Lusk, Levida Owens and Mrs. Margie Wilson discuss a story they just read.

Foreign Languages Gain Popularity

Pam Cope, Robin Maine, and Bridget Vrla transcribe from French tapes.

The study of Latin at Sherman High School has been broadened to include the many facts of the classical civilization of Greece and Rome. Students are introduced not only, to the study of a language which has had a great impact on our own language but also to the daily lives, literature, history, and religion of the people who spoke Latin.

Students gain a deeper appreciation of classical cultures by reading outside of class. Non-fiction books which deal with the areas mentioned above. They also are responsible for non-written products such as oral presentations, models, paintings, posters, or any freestanding media.

Students in first period Latin class were asked why they took Latin. Their reactions follow:

Cindy Boatright, Junior, "I want to be a physical therapist, so I had to know Latin."

Caren Johnson, Junior, "Because I wanted to learn a foreign language and learn more about English."

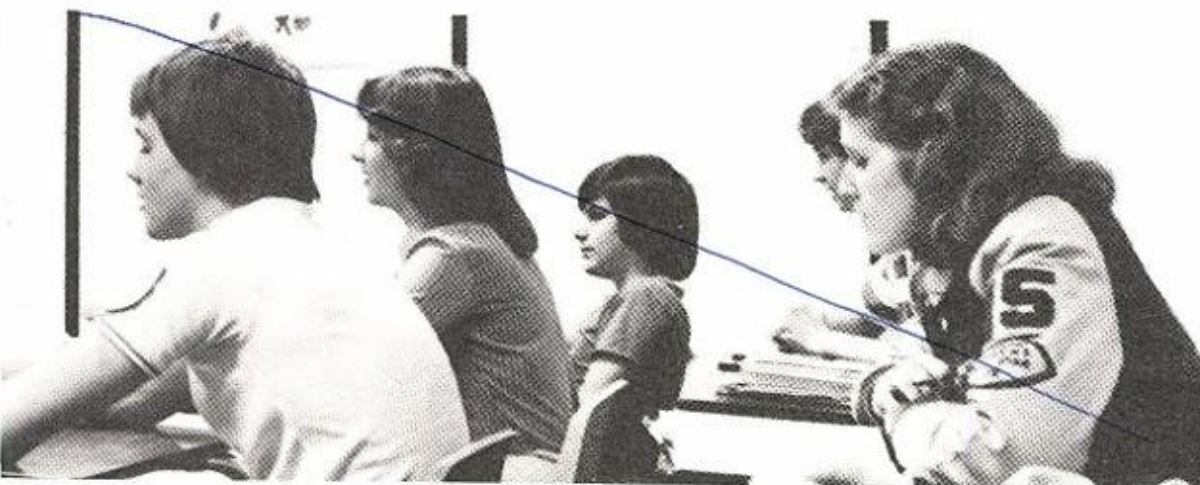

Keith Caston, Sophomore, "Because I want to be a veterinarian and I thought Latin might help."

This year there are approximately 147 students enrolled in the largest foreign language class, Spanish. Since last year, Spanish classes have increased from four to six classes: Three Spanish I, Two Spanish II, and One Spanish III. Having more students meant having a new teacher as well, with Miss Patsy Wilson joining Miss Barbara Jarvis in the Spanish department as a new SHS teacher.

Learning to speak Spanish in conversational situations is the main goal in Spanish. Correct pronunciation, grammar, vocabulary, oral and written practice, emphasized writing, acting out dialogs in Spanish and singing in Spanish are fun ways of learning the language. Students learn about the customs, history, economy, geography, and other cultural aspects of Spanish speaking countries.

Miss Barbara Jarvis returns papers to 5th period.

Mark Rexrode, Laurie Russell, Brad Schwoerer, Jack Scanlon and Michelle Minor taking drills in class.

Foreign Languages Enrich Vocabulary

The French classes at Sherman High School strive to teach all French students the basics through film strips and tapes.

Learning the cultures of France and other French speaking countries is very important. Games and a variety of techniques are used to show the differences between America and France.

French II and III, however, are a little more complicated. They go deeper into the cultures of French, grammar, and literature.

French students were asked why they took French. Their reactions follow:

Michelle Minor, "It's an interesting course, and it is graceful to speak."

Terri Gentry, "I heard that it will make it easier to get into college."

Gary Walsh, "Needed a foreign language for college."

Tena Walton, "Because I plan to major in music in college and I needed it."

Spanish students were asked how they felt about Spanish and why they took the class. Their reactions follow:

Kathy Pierce, "I didn't want to take French or Latin so I took Spanish, I thought I would get more out of it."

Sally Harper, "I want to learn to speak Spanish."

Robert Abbott, "I had to have a foreign language and Spanish was the easiest one."

Leigh Anderson concentrates on Latin assignment.

Mrs. Donna Kumler explains Latin assignment to Karen Cobbs, Mike Mitchell, Cindy Boatright and Chris Louderback.

Miss Barbara Jarvis explains Spanish lesson to first period.

Journalism I Students Face New Challenge

"Journalism I has improved in accepting responsibilities since last year," stated Paula Morgan, instructor.

This year's class is set up to resemble a publishing company's system. The students have their own titled position such as editors, typists, and proofreaders and they are required to take full responsibility of their position for six weeks. Students clock in at the beginning of class and out at the end. They also receive a check at the end of each week. The pay check, along with the textbook, test, and ambition are used to determine a student's final grade.

This is an excellent way to keep the students working. Their minds become more creative and that enables them to think and write quickly, use better interview techniques, and work better with class members along with accepting responsibilities.

The Sherman High School Hi-Talk is written mainly by the Journalism I students. Each story a student writes has his byline printed above the story (although this is not the proper professional procedure) to help the student have confidence and incentive to write more stories.

Journalism I students in first and fourth periods were asked why they took journalism and what they got out of it. Their comments follow below:

John Hill, "It's a lot of hard work, but I enjoy it."

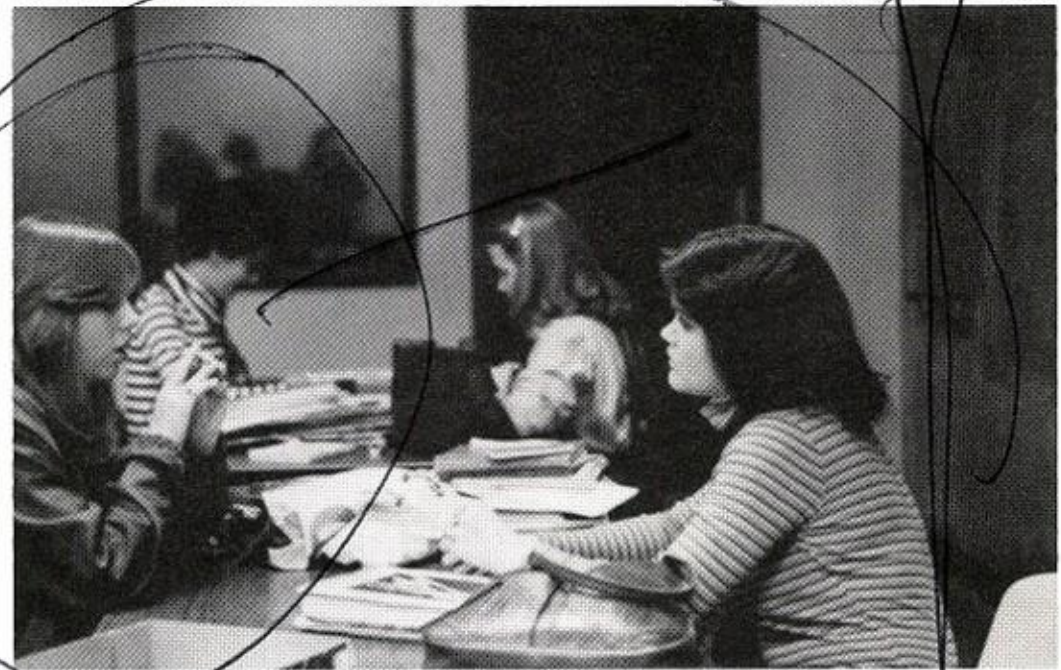

George Townsend, "I get a headache and a full-time schedule, but I enjoy it."

Debbie Johnson, "I like the experience of working on a paper and writing stories."

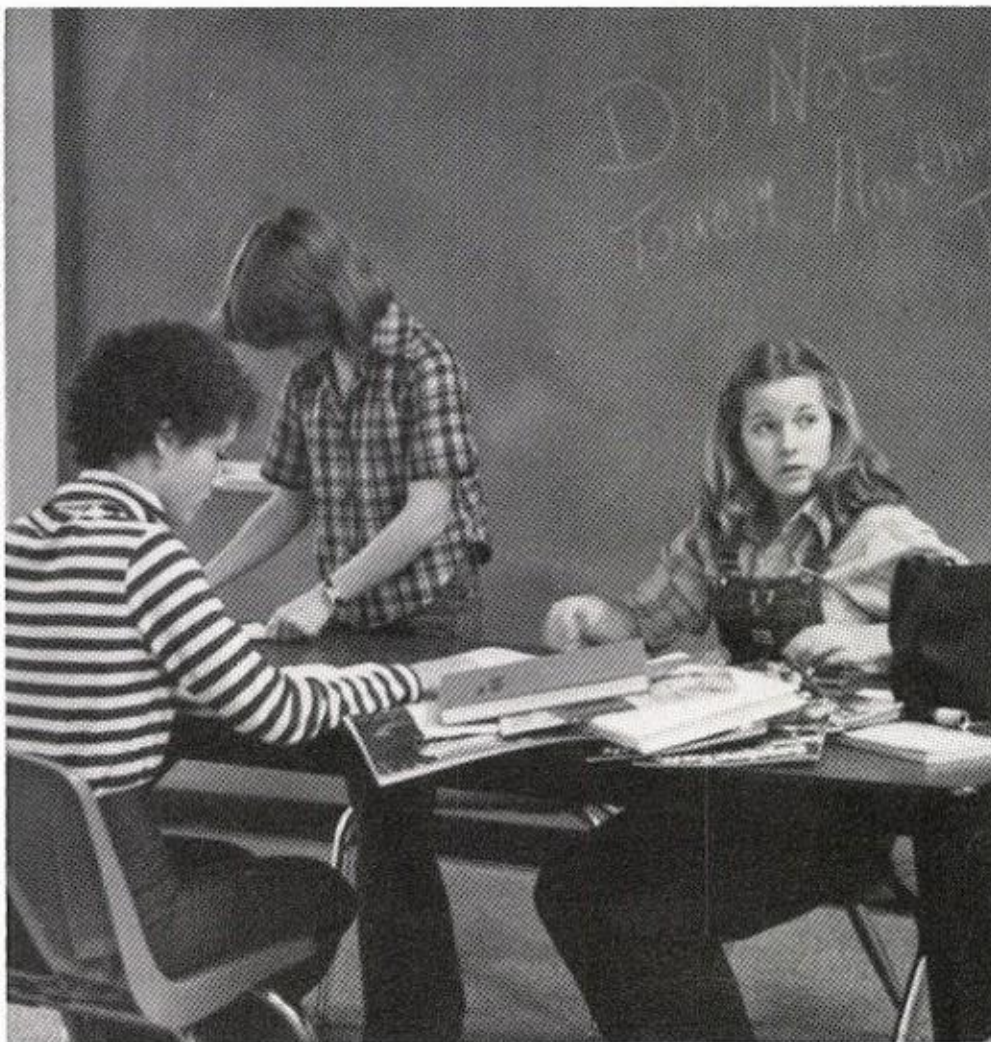

Edward Davis, "Journalism is mainly a lot of fun to me and it is also very educational and I'd like to continue in the studies of this interesting field."

Lori McGraw, "Aid in business and writing ability."

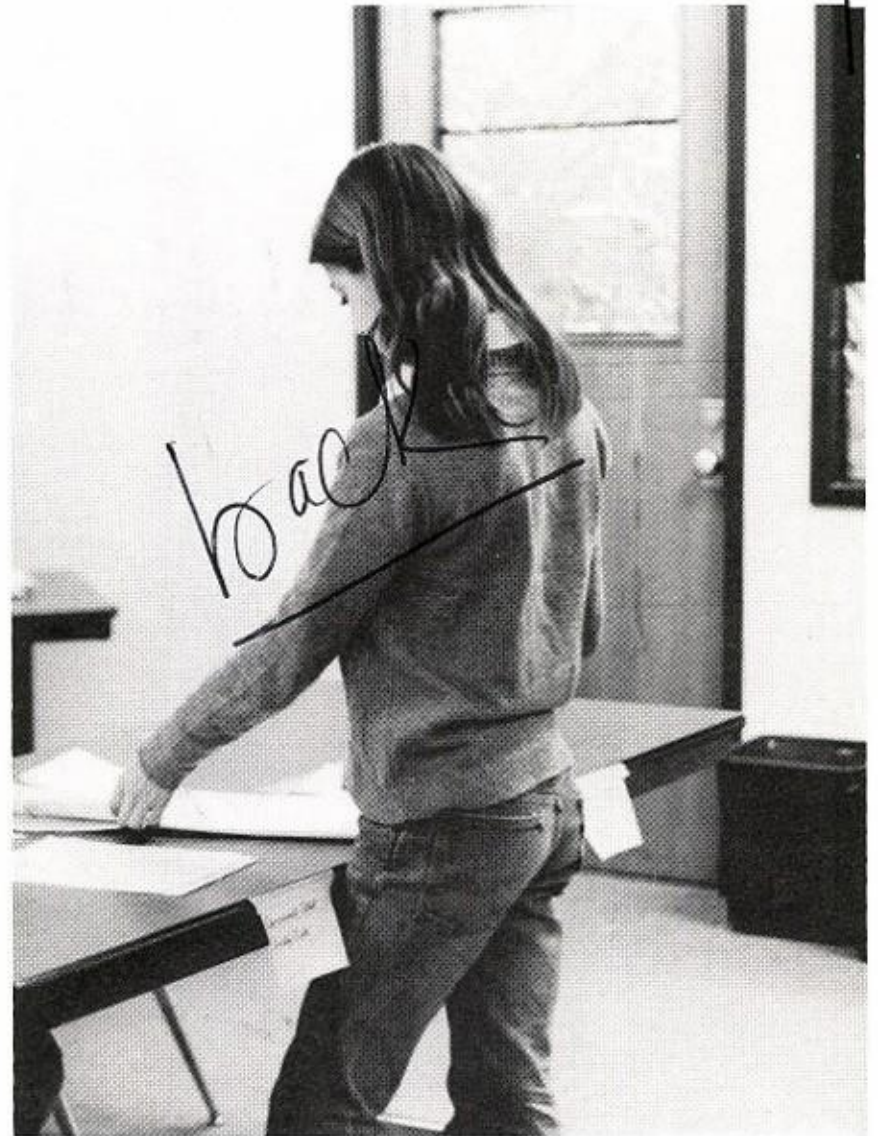

Journalism is not all fun and games. A paper is not something you can put together in one day, it takes time and a lot of effort. Journalism is a lot of hard work, but the students can work and enjoy themselves at the same time.

Debbie Johnson and Debra Bennett discuss story headlines.

Stacy Boatman, LaSandra Herpeche, and Anne Ray Harman begin preparing for interview.

Karen Foster begins to lay out newspaper.

Athenian Sales Set All-Time Record

The 1977-78 Staff Class has published four newspapers and the Athenian this year.

A lot of hard work goes into the newspaper and yearbook. All layouts for both are done by the Staff.

The candid shots are taken by the SHS photographers. The 1977-78 photographers are: Paula Lacy, Khris Miller, Bobby Evans, Ken McBryde, Judy Wright, and Mark Simon.

All stories in the Hi-Talk are written by Journalism I and II students. The newspaper that ranges from 8 to 22 pages is printed by the Denison Herald. Editor for the Hi-Talk is Judy Adair.

The Athenian Staff produced a 356 page Athenian, with nine pages colored, the first Athenian with four color since 1972.

Athenian Staff members were asked why they took Journalism a second year. They react as follows:

Laura Hayden, "I like meeting people."

Becky Booher, "I liked working on the paper last year, and I thought I would have fun working on the yearbook. It's interesting."

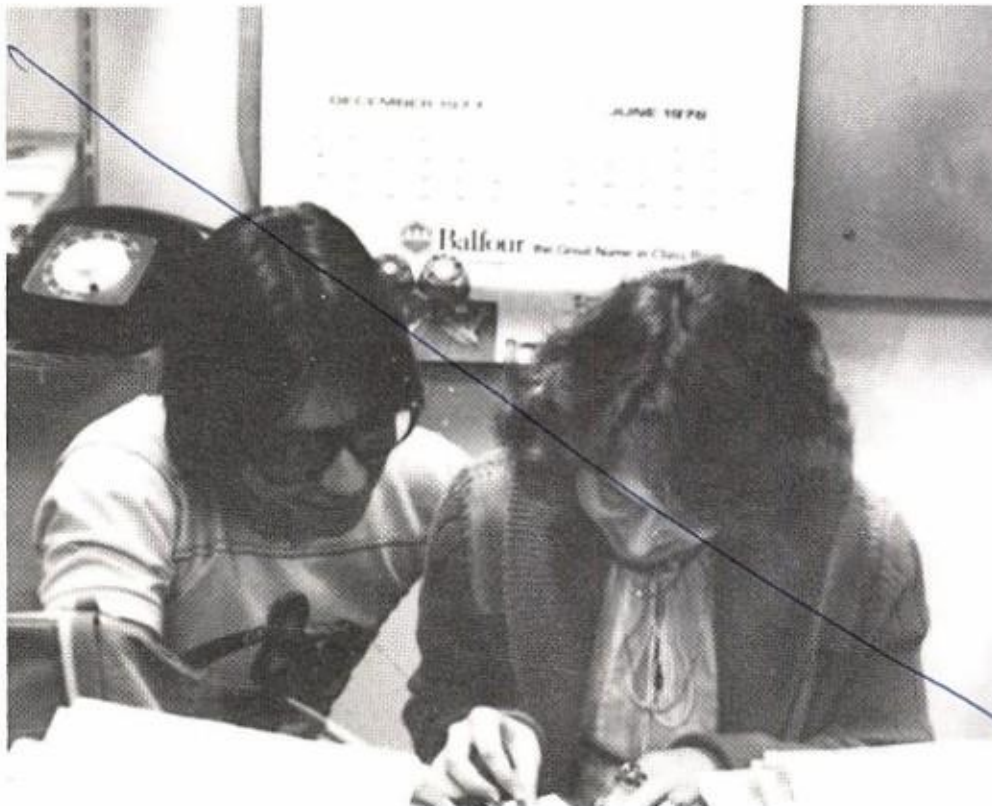

Judy Adair, "Because Journalism I was interesting."

Cheryl Brewster checks names and grades with pictures.

Steve Jonse and Pam Martin work on preparing index for the class sections.

Becky Booher types cutlines for Hi-Talk.

Math Department Expands Course Range

The Sherman High School Mathematics department offers a wide range of math courses to serve different levels of ability.

The Math courses offered at SHS are: Fundamentals Of Math I, and II, Algebra I, II, Geometry, Trigonometry, Analytical Geometry, Analysis, Survey of Math, History of Math, Number Theory, Speed Math, and the newest course, Consumer Mathematics.

Consumer Mathematics is being offered for the first time this year. The course is designed to introduce students to the free enterprise system. Juniors and seniors are eligible to take this course if they have completed Algebra I or six quarters of Introductory Algebra.

Students enrolled in any math course were asked if the math course they were enrolled in helped them in any way. The comments follow:

John Hill, "More than helping me understand math, geometry helps me to think logically."

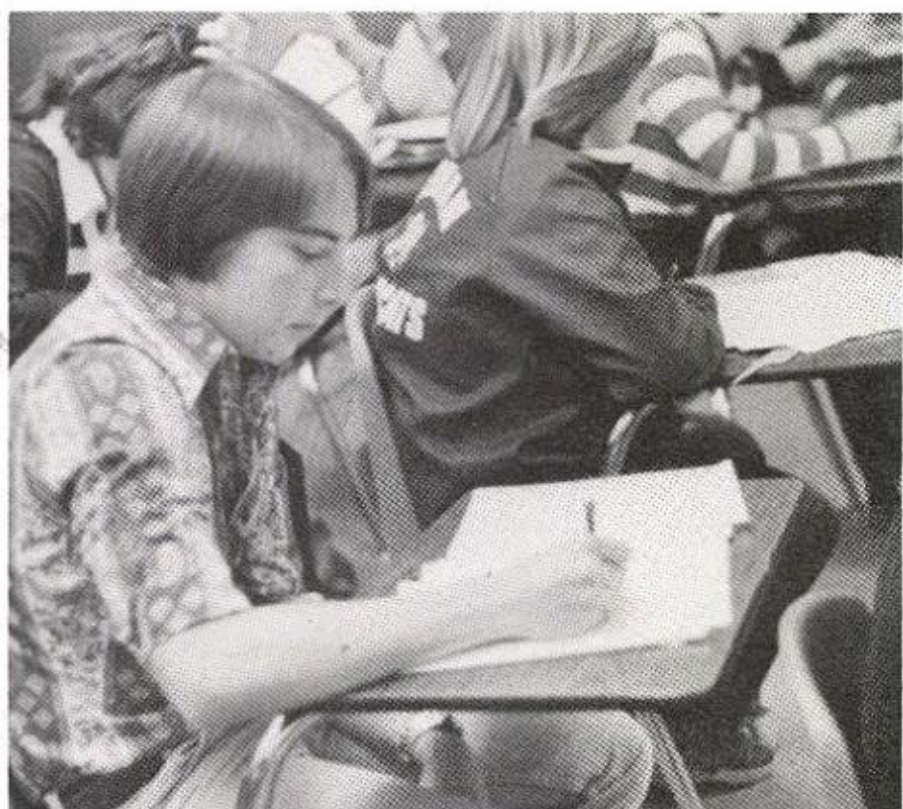

Tammy Burrow, "It has helped me a lot, and I like the teacher."

Ken McBryd, "It helps in life's situations, sometimes."

Cyrus Wesley, "I like the teacher and I learn to manage my money."

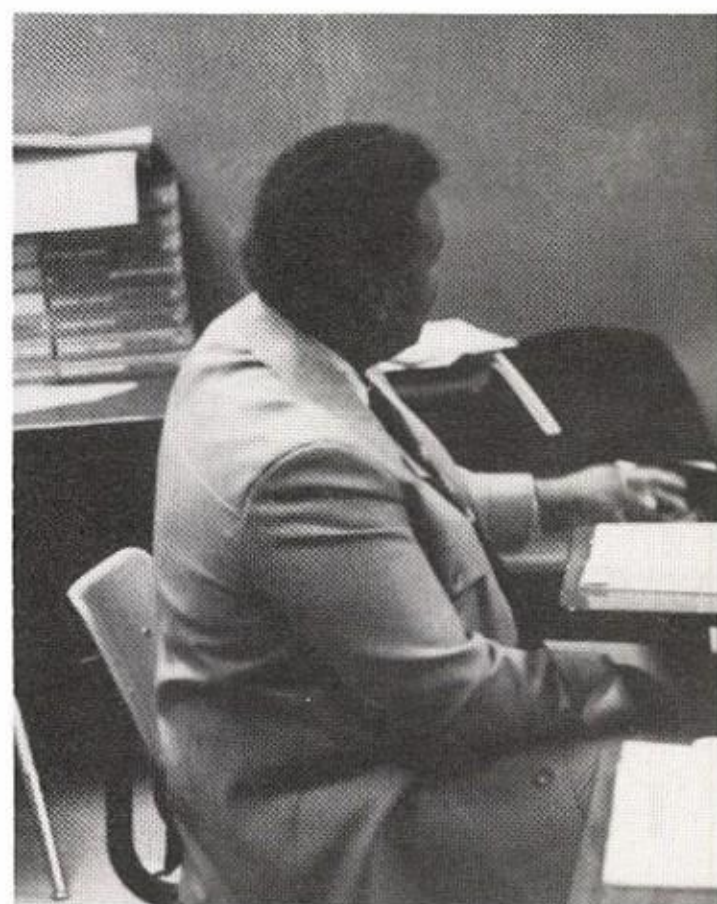

Ann Sheppard, Chris Taylor, John Burnett, Bruce Lowing, Bobby Jackson, Chuck Vestal, begin Algebra assignment.

Sophomore students look above for help on math quiz.

Mr. Q. D. Williams begins class discussion.

Business Focuses on Proficiency

Business education is a course designed to enhance the proficiency and performance of the different aspects of business. Understanding and building relationships are important in learning business education.

The business classes offered are: Typing I and II, Shorthand I, Bookkeeping, Recordkeeping, Business Law, and Clerical Practice.

Typing I focuses on learning the keyboard and mechanical parts. Students learn how to write letters properly, and how to set up themes.

Typing II improves a student's skills by timed-writings and completing forms. Typing II is for the advanced typist to learn more about the typewriter.

Shorthand I concentrates on learning to read and write shorthand. Students also work on speed and accuracy.

"Bookkeeping not only covers personal financial management but teaches the student to keep a simple set of books," stated Mrs. Bernice Johnson.

Record-keeping emphasizes personal records and basic business forms.

In Business Law students learn basic points necessary for enforceable control. They also cover areas of employee-employer relations, insurance, and banking.

Learning to operate calculators and typewriters is important in clerical practice. Students also learn different filing systems.

Jeff Harron practices on daily timed writings.

18 Mrs. Betty Bledsoe explains assignment.

Sharri Odom, Carla Hogan, Ronnie Green, Lori McGraw, Connie Stinebaugh, and Karla Parr, practice timed writings.

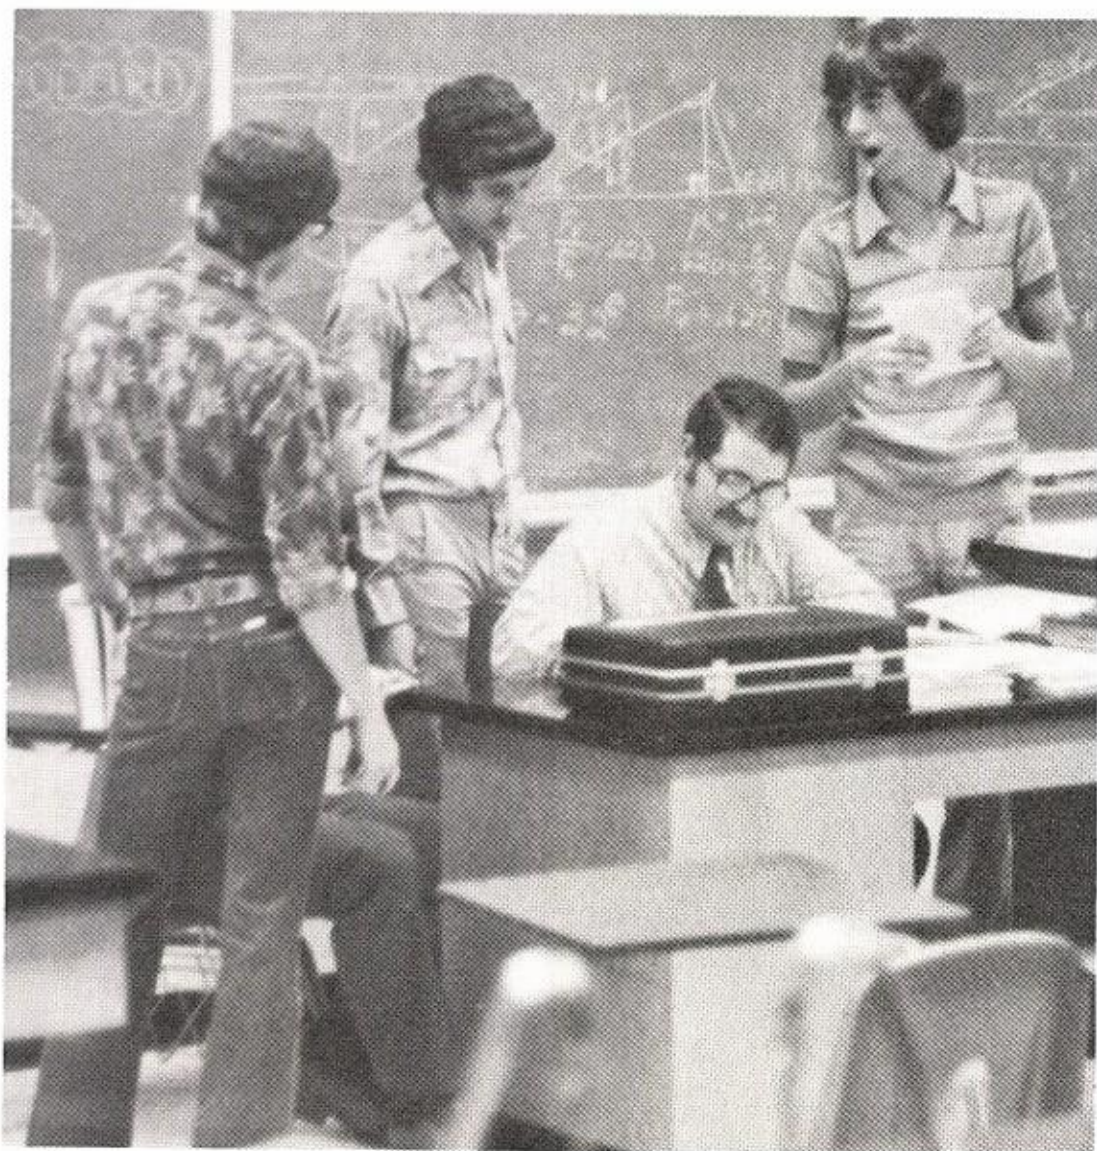

Science Department Concerned With Preparing Students

Amy Howell, Ralph Renshaw, Christy and Rob Grant concentrate on Chemistry test.

Ricky Kennedy, David Connors and Bob Bowers compare biology notes.

Sam Martin, Craig Watson, Chuck Oakley watch as Mr. Mark Stoddard checks test papers.

The Science Department at Sherman High School is concerned with preparing the student for a career in any science field, touching and dwelling on the broad concepts of biology, physical science, physics, and chemistry.

Outstanding in the program are the laboratory assignments. The student is able to see science at work and can better comprehend what is trying to be explained. Science isn't all paperwork; it can be fun.

Each science course is equipped with tools, labs, and a capable instructor.

Biology teaches the student to dissect, and learn how to labs.

Physical Science stresses the knowledge of atoms, and metric measurements.

The study of motion, velocity, and waves are what Physics is all about. Students also study light.

Chemistry is the study of matter and its changes. Different materials are mixed and studied. The results of the mixtures can be tested for usage.

Coach Gerald Jack explains dissecting procedures.

Social Studies Spans Globe

The Social Studies Department at Sherman High offers a wide selection of courses.

In order to graduate a student must have either World Geography or World History in the ninth or tenth grade, in the eleventh grade, American History and American Government in the twelfth. Psychology/Sociology is an elective course for juniors and seniors.

Asian and European Studies is a three-quarter course offered to any student. Major historical events, how they affect people today, and their relationship with the U.S. are studied.

American Government or Civics is a detailed study of our political system and of the Texas Constitution.

"American History teaches students the history of the United States from the post civil war period to modern times," stated Mrs. Dana Williams.

Students in world geography study the events of major culture regions of the world. In addition they study world explorers, earth forces, and weather.

Latin American Studies offers everything from the culture to the animals that live and breed in the area. The food that is eaten is all studied and tasted. This class covers the area from Mexico on south.

African Studies is a one quarter course that covers all areas of Africa. Things that are studied are the same as in Latin American studies.

Students enrolled in any social studies class were asked if they liked the course they were in. Their comments are as follow:

Lisa Werner, "I like history and world history sounded better than American History and I knew I would have Cunningham."

Judy Adair, "American History, I like it because it's pretty interesting and a lot of courses they make you take aren't."

Gary Hestand, "I don't like civics, some areas we cover are alright, but some of them aren't."

Chris Bruce, Vickie Brown, Roy Bowen, Pat Neblett, Bert McJimsey, Leslie Lange, and Pam McDonald during sixth period Civics.

Benny Risner, Butch Crosby, and Memehet Hizarci listen to Mrs. Pam Howeth's lecture.

Mrs. Pam Howeth explains assignment to Mari Clark.

Gina Rexrode reads for her Civics report.

David Boerner and Mrs. Lucille Kirkpatrick check book conditions in the library.

Junior Paula Cox files mail in teachers' boxes.

Janet Fontain, Mrs. Edith Mitchell, Kevin Adolof and Dickie Rush check assist list.

Office Work Teaches Responsibility

The attendance office, library, counselor's office, and media center all have assistants.

These assistants take slips to people for the attendance or counselor offices. They place books back on the shelf, or work in the media center.

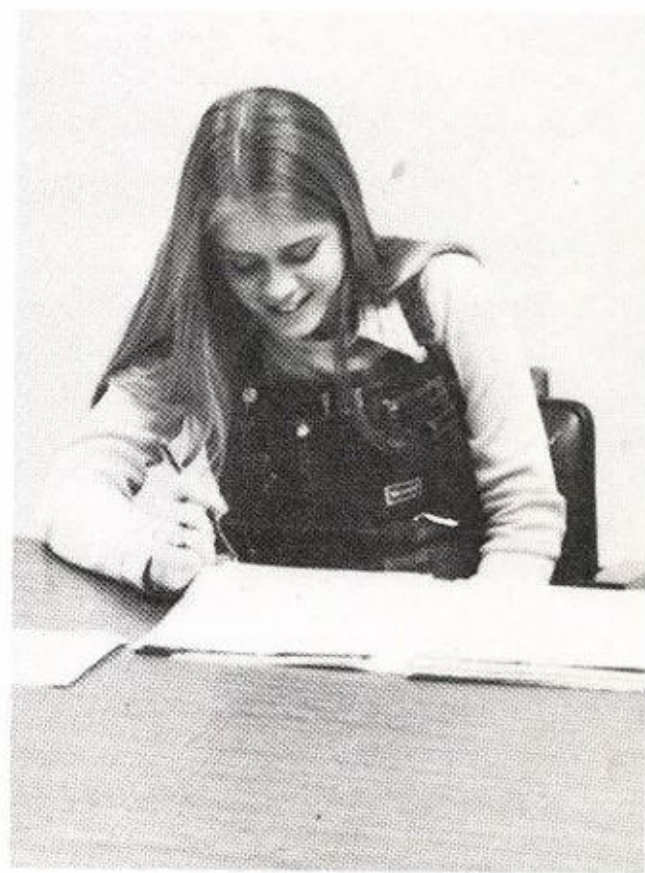

Students can take advantage of the opportunity to gain experience in office work and provide a vital source of manpower for the offices.

Students working at these jobs were asked if they liked their specific job. Their comments are as follows:

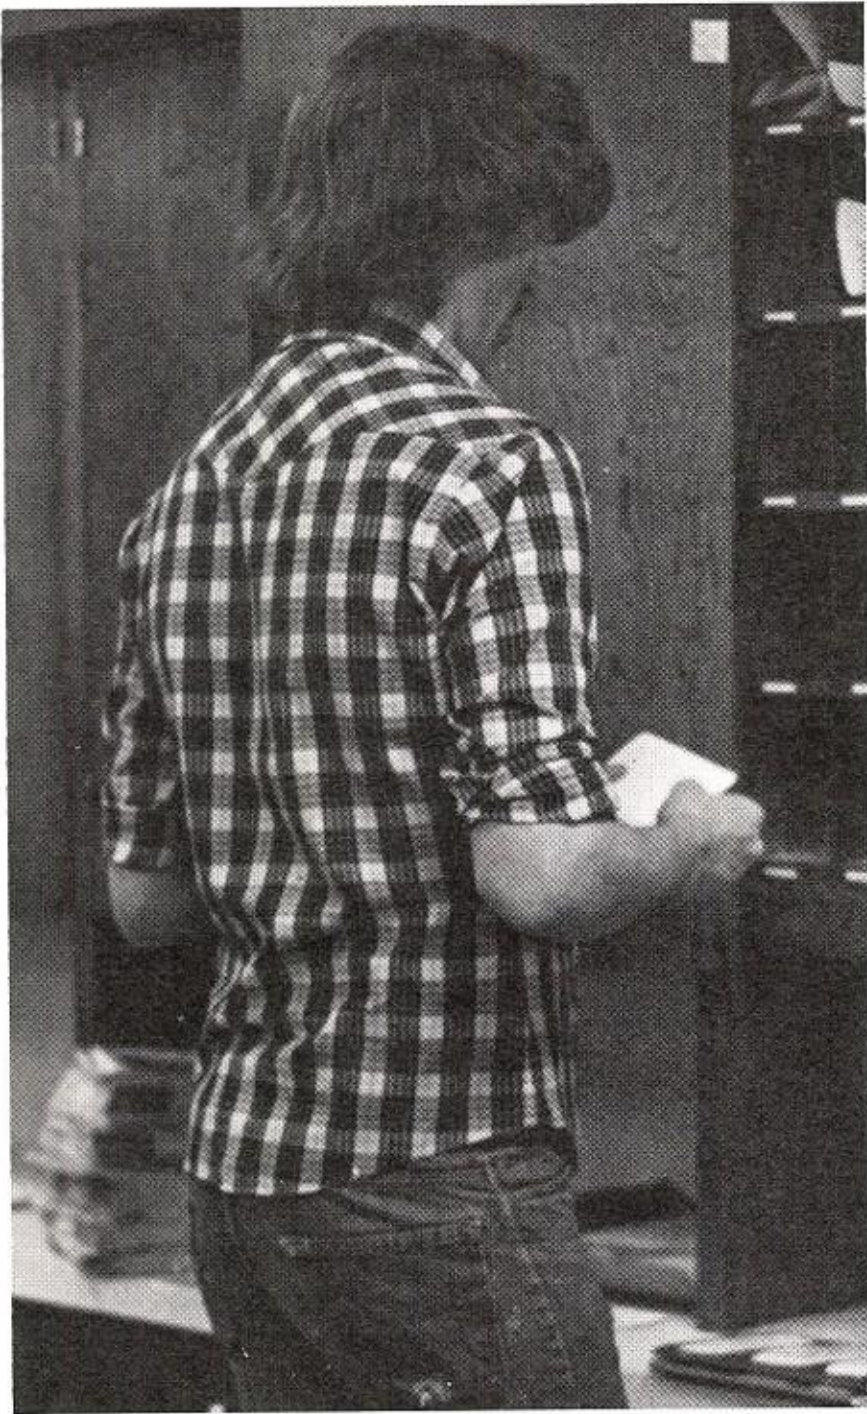

Glenn Bailey, "I run the duplicator, answer the phone and run messages, I like it."

Marcie Wilson, "I check the mail, run messages, put up mail, duplicate sometimes, and also answer the telephone. I like it. It's just like an everyday job."

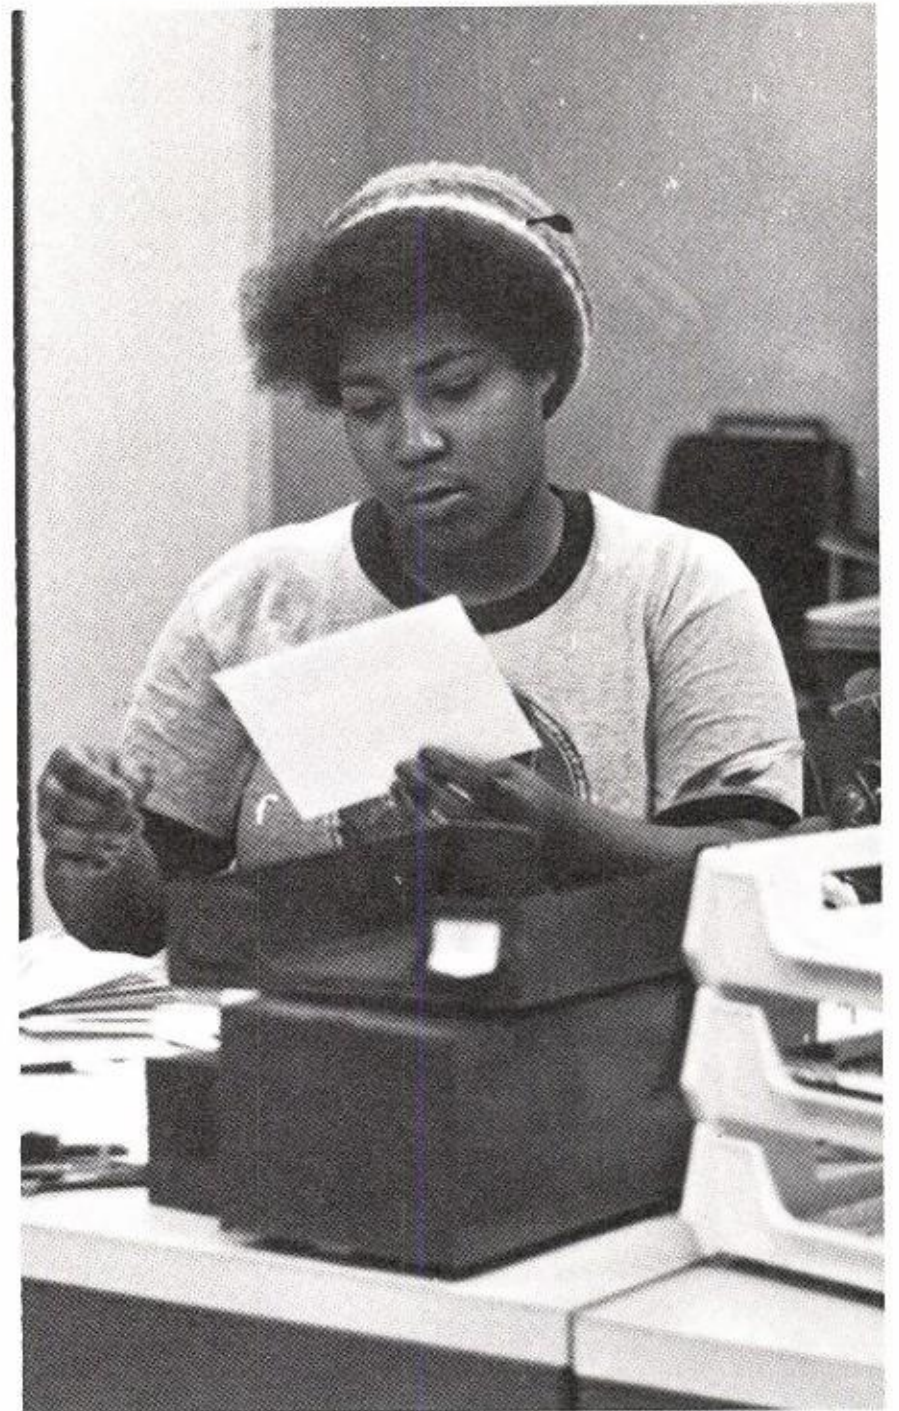

Donna Tenza, "I work in the counselor's office. I like it because Mrs. Kratch makes me laugh and I like to deliver yellow slips."

Lisa Reid checks names and schedules.

Senior Glenn Bailey files morning mail.

Marcie Wilson arranges schedules for future reference.

Scott Eriksen, Larry Burch, Gary Pratt, and Gina Graham practice running duplicator.

Talents Expressed Through Acting

It takes the imagination and exaggeration of the mind to express something one feels, like through the expression of one's talents.

Students can express their fullest ability when acting. Students can portray a completely different character.

It takes more than just a cast to perform a good play. It takes a good stage crew, director, and an attentive audience.

Public appreciation is an important part of the satisfaction found in expressing one's self.

Through the characters they are viewing, any member of the audience is able to visualize himself in that role.

Without ever setting foot on the stage, students were able to obtain the satisfaction of a part, of being another person. Creative talent finds expression in physical outlets, as well as through emotional ones.

Homemaking Projects Open to All

The Homemaking department at SHS offered a wide variety of projects.

Homemaking I, II, and III concentrate on preparing the student in skills, such as cooking and sewing.

All types of homemaking classes are required to do a project at home, and evaluate it each quarter. Anything from painting a room to cooking a family dinner is on the list of projects.

Home and Family Living is offered to any junior or senior interested in becoming aware of the problems of being married or staying single. It teaches students the difference between infatuation and love. It also prepares them for adult relationships.

The Home and Family Living wedding is the climax of all projects. The wedding is done like a real wedding. It includes bridesmaids, groomsmen, ushers, parents of the bride and groom, members of the house party, and of course the bride and groom.

Concluding the wedding a reception is held which includes the receiving line, registration of the guests, and the serving of both the bride's and groom's cake and punch. All cakes are made by the students, materials are furnished by the school.

Home and Family Living students were asked what they learned from the course:

Cheryl Brewster, "I learn that life is not always happy and that you have to learn to solve your own problems without depending on someone else. I feel that this course should be required because not all people feel that life will have its good and bad days."

Judy Adair, "I learned that life isn't all fun and games after you get married and settle down. You really have to work at making your life worthwhile."

Phil Dowden, "Peace, love, and understanding."

Rhonda Riley, "I've learned a lot about adulthood and marriage."

Denise Grigg and Don Hollister proceed down the aisle after mock wedding.

Homemaking III students watch as teacher Mrs. Kay Viergiver illustrates baby care.

Homemaking I students discuss home projects during their class period.

Art Techniques

Creators

There is more to art than just picking up a paint brush and splashing some paint on a piece of paper.

Art III and IV study the history of art, as well as paint the Christmas pictures on the windows. There are 21 Art III students and one Art IV student, Tim Hale.

Texture is the main subject of Art III. Textural patterns are used in positive and negative areas. Objects, such as flowers, birds, trees, etc. will be made of black ink dots.

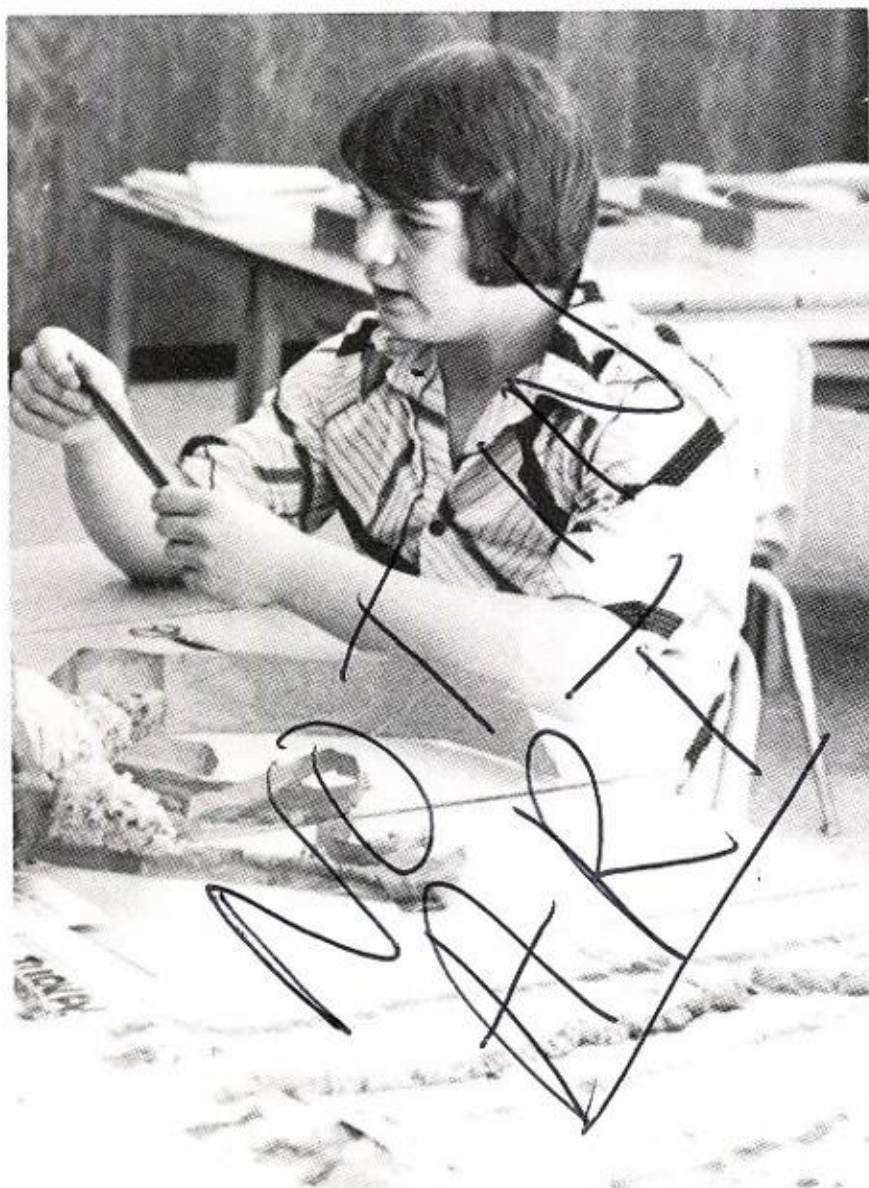

Sculpturing wood into odd shapes and designs. Leather work is also an assignment. Animal heads were drawn with pastels on manilla paper.

Art I students were asked about their favorite assignments in art. Their reactions are as follow:

Tamie Rengey: "Making leather is more fun than drawing and taking tests."

Brenda Maxwell: "Leather is my favorite thing to do in art."

Trisha Stone, "Working with leather."

Dennis Gore decorates windows with Christmas scenes.

Karen Williams prepares art project.

Danny Stout shows his artistic talents while working on piñata.

Morris, Duren Accepted by American Field Service

Senior Valerie Morris and junior Gary Duren were selected as Sherman High School applicants in the American Field Service Program.

Miss Morris stated that she is "excited about being accepted and can't wait." When asked what she planned to gain from the experience, she replied, "I will be able to discover a new culture, and learn a new language."

Miss Morris' hobbies include: playing tennis, swimming, volleyball, horseback riding, running, water and snow skiing, and eating. Miss Morris was a member of the flag bearers, president of the French club, and Vice President of O.E.A.. She is also a member of both local and national F.C.A.

Miss Morris will participate in the Americans Abroad School Program. Although she graduated in May, she will begin school as a senior next year.

Gary Duren stated that "the program should be fun, and it will also be a good experience in making new friends and having memories to look back on."

Health Occupations Training Develops Awareness

Charla Andrews checks blood pressure.

Barbara Wolfington practices heart massage.

Health Occupations Cooperative Training (HOCT) is an arrangement between Sherman High School and local health facilities which allows students to attend classes for half a day and work for half a day, receiving on-the-job training.

Students attend school until 11:30 a.m. and then go to work. Some work 1 to 5 p.m. and others work 3 to 7 p.m.

In the classroom students study anatomy, physiology, medical terminology, abbreviations, ethics, and legal responsibilities.

Students work in approved health facilities such as hospitals, nursing homes, doctors' offices, dentist, optometrists, and chiropractors' offices.

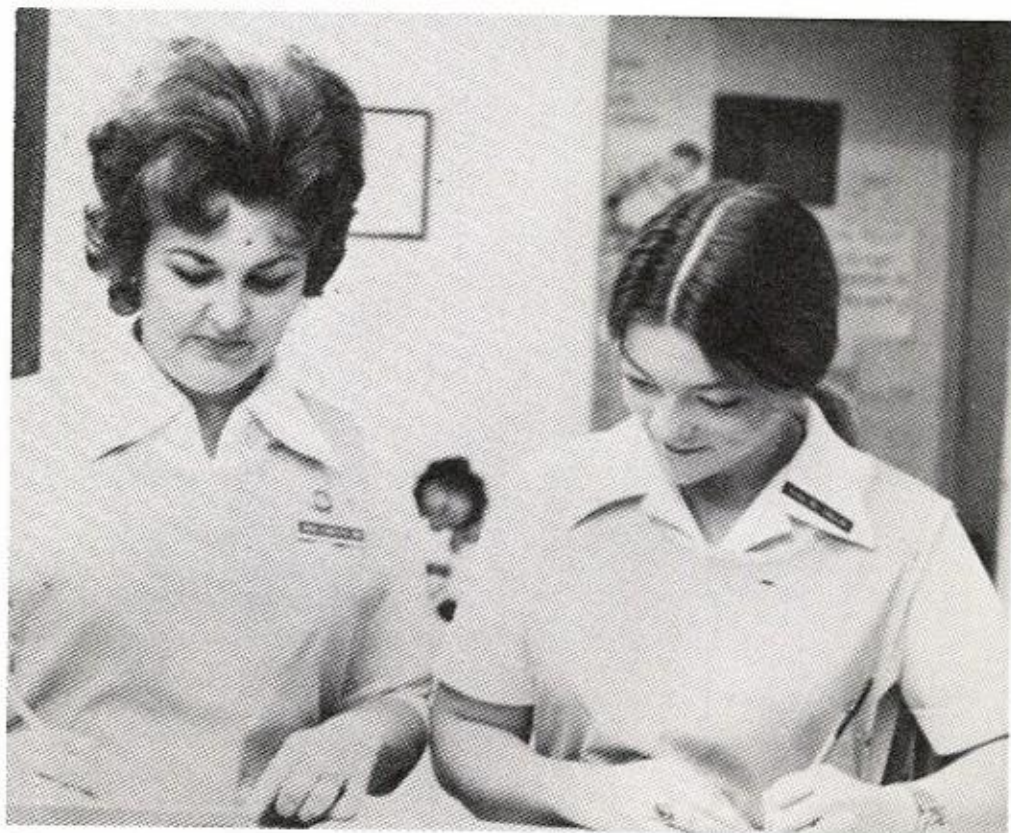

Many students continue to work in their particular field after an extended study in college.

Students were quoted on the class. Their comments are as follow:

Sarah Akers, nurses' aide, "Health Occupations helped me by getting the job and with the job I can get more of what I want and less time in school. Later, I can use what I've learned."

Charla Andrews, nurses' aide, "I learned to take vital signs and how to get the patient to co-operate with you. In the classroom we learn terms to use at the hospital."

Brenda Bullock, physical therapy, "The class helps me learn all about therapy and I plan on going to college and major in physical therapy."

Mrs. Candaff and Martha McCullom compare notes before beginning rounds.

Students Develop Carpentry Skills

The Sherman High School building trades class is constructing the seventh house at 2217 Alphine.

The class, consisting of 9 seniors, 14 juniors, and 1 sophomore, is under the direction of Mr. Eugene Alexander.

The students do a majority of the work on the house; they set the forms and prepare for the foundation. Once that is completed they start on the frame for both the house and roof. Then they shingle the roof and add both the doors and windows. After the outside is completed, students begin the inside work of sheetrocking, paneling, installing electrical wire, building cabinets, finishing, and painting.

The Multiple Listing of Local Realtors sell the house as a project and do not charge for their services. Any profit on the house is returned to the building trades fund to be used the following year to buy tools and supplies.

The house has 3 bedrooms, 2½ baths, a gameroom, large den with fireplace, formal dining room, and 2 car garage. It is 2,247 square feet and will sell for approximately $55,000.

Building Trades students were asked what they got out of Building Trades and their answers are as follow:

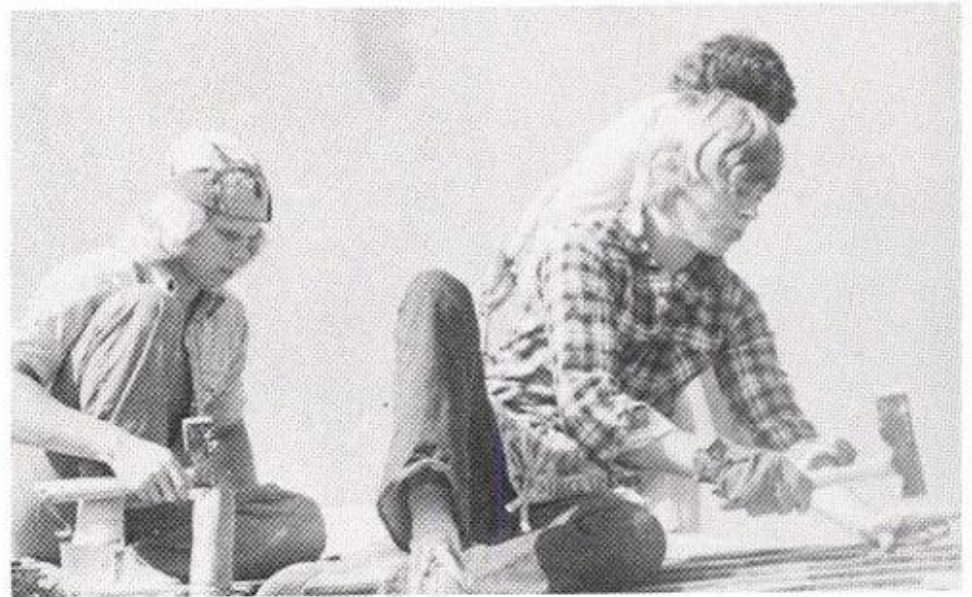

Glenn Bailey, "You learn how to work on your own and learn stuff that might help you when you get out of school."

Bruce Ketcham, "You learn the importance of constructing a house in the right manner."

Phil Dowden, "You learn the basic fundamentals of general carpentry which will help you in the bright new future which lies ahead of you."

Sherman Hi-Steppers Sparkle During Halftime Performances

The Sherman Bearcats rolled to their second straight undefeated season posting a 9-0-1 record. The Cats' only blemish was a mid season tie with Plano. Sherman was the only undefeated team in Texas.

It was this tie that kept the Cats out of the playoffs while Plano went on to win the State Championship.

Sherman now has gone 25 straight games without a loss. This is currently the longest in state.

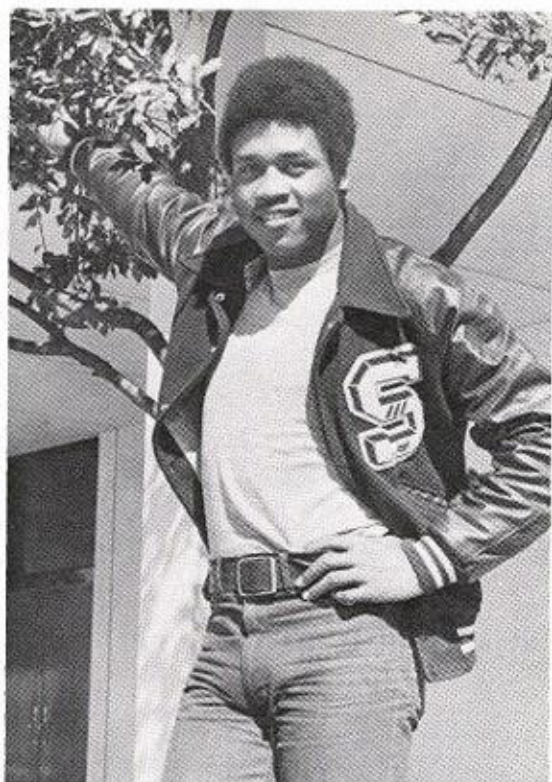

Coach Tommy Hudspeth's team was excellent all year on offense and the defense improved every game. It was the third straight winning season for Sherman.

In post-season honors Sherman placed seven people on the All-District team. On the first team were QB Randy Wessinger, running back Eddie Wright, linemen Don Stout, and Ebbie Watson, and receiver-cornerback Jimmy Turner made it both offensively and defensively.

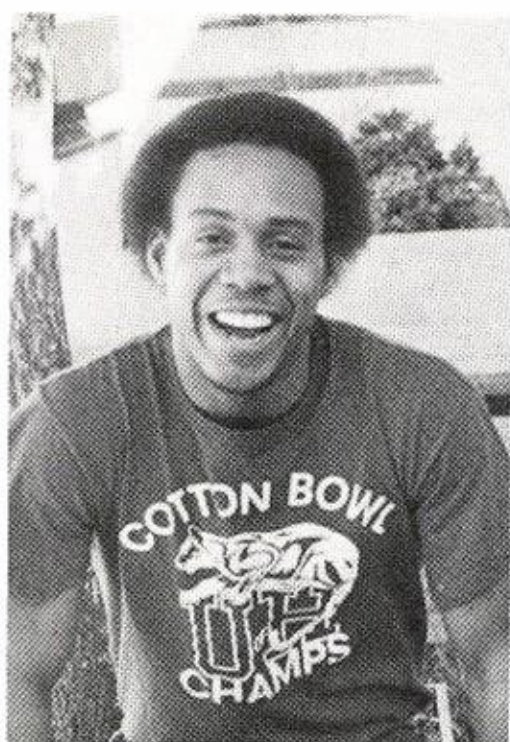

Named to the second team was defensive back Gary Lowell and defensive end Kevin Woodrow.

Missing Penetration Knocks Out Bearcats 4A Championship

The Cats received their only blemish of the season when Plano came from behind to knot the score at 14 all. It was a windy night and the Cats were severely hampered trying to pass. Sherman was forced to run and tough Plano defense met the challenge. This tie kept the Cats out of the playoffs because Plano had more downs.

Coach Hardin commented that the team showed a lot of character and improved each game.

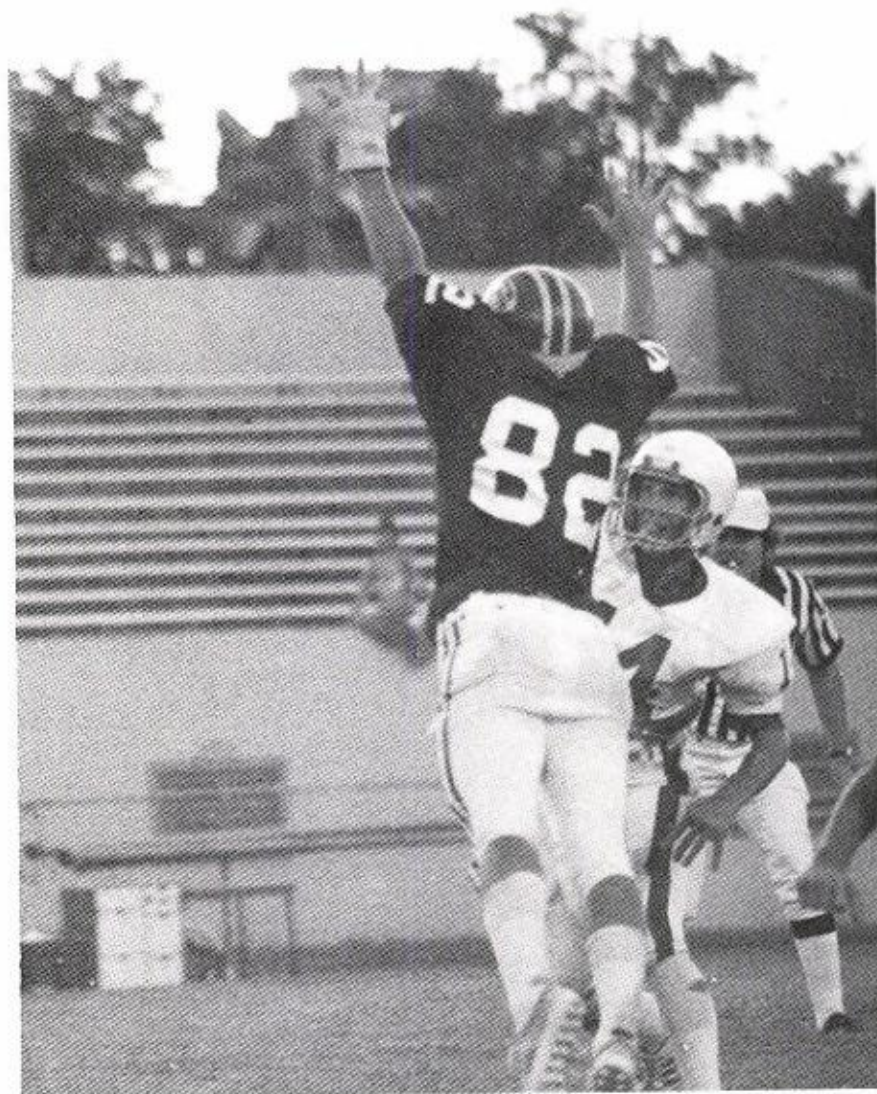

The Cats got off to a quick start winning three of their first four. They defeated L. D. Bell, Greenville, and Denison, while losing to Denton.

Sherman then won three in a row against Pearce, Paris, and Berkner to show great character and a bright promise of a good future.

Sherman jumped off to a good start by sweeping their first two games in the Berkner tournament. The two wins were over Irving MacArthur and North Garland before falling to North Mesquite and J.J. Pearce. Chris Reynolds led the team throughout the tourney and was named to the All Tournament team.

Sherman's next opponent was the highly touted Arlington Colts. Tony Taylor kept the Cats in the game offensively while the defense was led by Randy Wes-singer and Gary Lowell. Sherman lost in overtime. Highland Park then came to Sherman led by their star guard Billy Allen, son of SMU Coach Sonny Allen. The teams were even through the first quarter.

Sherman took it on the chin again by falling to Durant at home. It was one of the most exciting games of the year for the Cats. The game opened with the teams trading shots to stay even. It started out a very physical game and ended the same way as the half ended there was an exchange of words but nothing came of it.

In the fourth quarter the Cats upped the lead to as much as five points but Durant hung on. As they neared Durant tied the game at 54 all. Sherman promptly came down and turned the ball over.

After a few fouls were committed Durant hit a jump shot to take a 56-55 lead with eight seconds to play. Durant had a chance to put it away at the free throw line but missed the first one of a one and one. Gary Lowell rebounded the shot and threw it the length of the floor. The ball was headed out of bounds when Jimmy Turner saved it to Tony Taylor. Taylor took a last chance shot and it went astray.

Reynolds led the scoring with 19 points while Taylor added 14 and Lowell 10.

The Sherman High Volleyball team ended district with an excellent 11-5 record. This earned the Cats a playoff spot for the district crown. Sherman was knocked off by the always tough Richardson and finished third in district 13-4A. This year's team played in some of the toughest tournaments in the state. Sherman lost out in all the tourneys but it was great experience for the team.

The Cats' finish was the highest by a Sherman team in years and shows a promising future in girls' volleyball." JV Spikers Aim Towards '79 Season

The Junior Varsity Volleyball team posted a 10-12 record and a 7-9 overall. They participated in 3 preseason tournaments and reached the second round each time. Sherman finished fourth in district this season. Some of the toughest games were against J. J. Pearce, Plano, and Berkner.

When Berkner visited Sherman they beat them real bad, but on the return trip to Berkner, Sherman played their best game of the year. They won in straight games and had excellent team effort. The team was coached by Mrs. Carrie Barron. Outstanding players for the team included hitters Bobbette Mason and Marylyn Cambell, with server Robin Maine and Stephanie Luper and Pam Griffin providing strong support in the back court. Coach Barron said, "The team should be real strong because there are some good freshmen moving up." This year's team weakness was in setters and the team could not take advantage of its good hitters. Coach Barron's comment on the season was that the team started out weak in overall team play, but pulled together real well.

Sherman followed with a 9-5 victory over Plano to pull their record to 1-2. Lake Highlands was the next victim of Sherman falling 4-1. J. J. Pearce then beat Sherman and virtually knocked Sherman out of the first round. Sherman evened their record at 3-3 with a high scoring 9-7 victory over Paris.

Sherman finished the first round an even 500 by defeating Berkner 6-2 and then losing to Richardson.

Sherman took the second round serious and came out looking like "new money." The Cats defeated Greenville 12-6 with Tony Taylor taking the win as the Cats pounded out 19 hits.

Sherman got revenge on Denison by defeating them 8-6. Sherman got ahead 5-0 and then hung on for the win.

Plano lost to Sherman for the second consecutive time by the score of 6-1. Tony Taylor pitched one of the best games of his 3 year career. Sherman had trailed 1-0 going into the sixth inning before exploding.

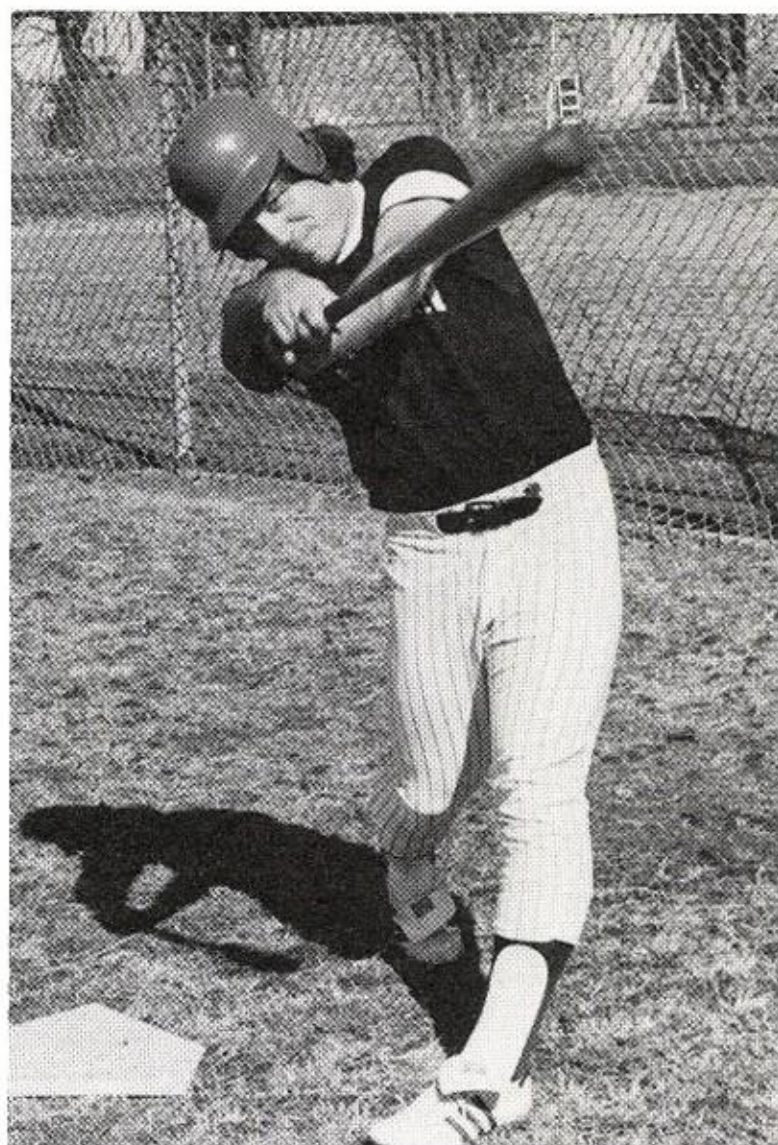

The Cats bombed Lake Highlands 10-1 to run their record of the 2nd round to 4 and 0. J. J. Pearce stopped the Cats' win streak by defeating them 5 to 2.

On Dec. 3, a Powder Puff game was held with the seniors defeating the juniors in a close game, 12-6.

The Powder Puff activities began about a month before the "big game" with afternoon practices, secret game plays, and sore muscles. Not only did the players begin practice, but so did Powder Puff cheerleaders, Billy Bob girls and the "Thrill Team" who performed at both the pep rally and the game.

At first, the game was only talk among students; an idea, that turned into one of the biggest highlights of the school year.

The day before the game, a Powder Puff pep rally was held with both the juniors and seniors participating. Both junior and senior players were hailed down the red carpet into their traditional seats.

Senior cheerleaders, Benny Risner, Timmy Blount, Ricky Runnels, Kyle Ewrin, Brad Moore, Tommy Lee and Billy Bob Girls, Terrie Payne, Michelle Winder, Tonya Renfro, and Ruth Ann Riddles led the seniors in such cheers as "Party," "Senior Locomotive," "Who" and "Two Bits." Tony Taylor delivered the pep talk. Junior cheerleaders, Grey Stogner, Roy Franks, Niles Gallion, Doug Rogers, Gary Duran, and Billy Bob Girls, Alison Buck, Paige Barcus, Reymie Barnett, Judy Adair, and Kristy Roberts led the juniors in "Be Aggressive," "Hey We Are Bad" and "Are the Seniors gonna Win?." Jeff Wilson gave the pep talk for the juniors.

The game began at 2:00 on Saturday, Dec. 3 at Austin College's Louis Calder Stadium. Senior girls participating included: Jayne Joiner, Patty Henderson, Pam Snipes, Suzanne Acklin, Jeanne Jack, Gera-lyn Bednarz, Shawn Hutcherson, Kay Ellen Olmstead, Allison Bryant, Ruth Ann Riddles, Vicki Brown, Kim Phelps, Terrie Payne, Michelle Winder, Susan Badgley, Gena Rexrode, Kee Ables, Valerie Morris, Pam Martin, Ann Blythe, Jamie Rivers, Kelly Hudspeth, Kari Pratt, Mori Dittmore, Andrea Arnold, Marcie Wilson, Paula Everett, Barbara McNeely, Anita Campbell, Carolyn Slack, Kem Andrews, Jodie Hase, Kim Lutz, Karen Hobbs, Brenda Killian, Kimberly Wilson, Shari Brandon, and Lisa Reid.

Saddle Tramps Adopt New Name

This year Sherman High School had quite a few talented musical groups. A new one to organize itself this year was Reign.

Reign consisted of four Sherman High School students. Butch Crosby on bass, Danny Batchelor on rhythm guitar, Tabb Bell on drums, and Warren Sewell on lead guitar.

The group changed its name to Saddle Tramps in February because of the changes of many of the players. Reign held two concerts, both of which were very well accepted by the student body. As Saddle Tramps the group performed at Homecoming 77, Nike concert, and many other activities.

Here are some comments from S.H.S. students about Reign.

Asenath Nall: "I thought they were really good, I liked having a group at the high school because we had a lot more concerts."

Melissa Bailey: "They were alright, I like listening to them better than I do teachers."

Steve Kuhns: "They were good."

Eric Peterson: "They were really 'bad!', they played a lot of jam and that's the way I like it."

Key Club Returns for Successful Year

Key Club is a service organization for high school students. Although it is similar to other high school organizations in that it operates under the school's regulations and draws its membership from the student body, it is uniquely different from any other. This uniqueness stems from its sponsorship, its aims, and its programs.

First, the Key Club is unique for it is sponsored by a local Kiwanis Club composed of the leading business and professional men of the community, through this sponsorship and the associations developed, students will learn more about their community and how it functions; they will learn what people banded together in a service club can do to make theirs a better community; and students have the opportunity to gain knowledge of various businesses and professions.

Secondly, the Key Club is unique for its aim, is the development of initiative, leadership ability, and good citizenship practices. These qualities are encouraged by all members accepting responsibilities in the administration and activities of the club.

Last, but by no means least, is the uniqueness of the Key Club's service program, not only does the Club provide the school with many services which make it a more pleasant place for students and teachers alike, but it goes into the community as well, to undertake various projects for the benefit of the entire community.

constant movement,

Searching

What is this, I seek to find:
love, security, or just something to call mine.

I look for love, a love that's true sometimes I wonder if this love is you.

Sometimes I wonder, do you really care or just have trouble expressing what's always been there.

I guess I'll wonder till the end of time; what am I looking for: love, security, or just something to call mine.

"A Dream on Her"

Tell me baby, could it be;
this dream I had, of you and me;
in this dream, we had much fun;
laughing while lying in the sun;
come the silence of the night;
we were gone, off on a flight;
never to return, to this life;
thoughts of you, seemed like a knife;
only a dream, I fret to remember;
might it be, or return to sender.

"Don't Say They Didn't Warn Ya"

School is a place to read and write;
sometimes you learn, what's wrong and right;
if by chance you don't get smart;
you should know, you got a head start;
some of the folks, they just get by;
others is nothing, but a piece of pie;
so while you're here, you best do good;
cause one of these days, you'll wish you could.

Sweet October

All the joy I receive,
from my October girl,
I will cry when she leaves,
my October girl.
My days which are full,
Will be empty and dull,
without my October girl.
How I wish she would stay,
but she's leaving —
That October day.
Oh, I will miss my sweet, October girl.

"Ode to Her"

To find someone, that is so dear;
I may have to look, for many a year;
When I find her, it will be clear;
And to her heart, may I steer;
And never be ashamed to shed a tear.

The Dream of Freedom

The dream was sad but full of light,
I had the dream just last night.
My head sank deep into my bed.
My heart hurt bad, 'cause freedom was dead,
I rode her over the hills one day
She moved her muscles in a muscular way,
The sun was sinking behind the cliffs
The wind blew through us in cool, swift drift
we soon reached our destiny
I looked at Freedom, she looked at me
She was tired so I let her drink
Next thing I knew her eyes were pink,
I gave her water, that was not right and, So my freedom died that night.

Leave Me Alone

Leave me alone and I'll go on my own way.
I don't mean tomorrow, I mean it today.
I'm tired of the hassel,
Alone I'm the best;
I just need some time,
I never get a rest,
I'm just a lone wolf,
I belong to no pack;
Just leave me alone,
Take the knife from my back.
I'm nothing to no one,
It's me and myself;
I feel like a clock
That fell off a shelf.
I need nobody
To offer their help,
For this lone wolf
Has yet to yelp.
If I were a bird,
Away I'd fly;
I'd soar so high
I'd be lost in the sky.
I'm just like a spirit,
I've got to be free;
Just leave me alone
And let me be me.

Give To Me

All I am I give to You,
All you are I wish for me,

We are each other
I give you a tear,
You give me hope
we give each other love,
I love you babe.

I feel so good when you're around,
Babe don't leave me.
I can't make it without you.

I cry at night,
'cause I need you so much
you pick me up,
you never let me down,
I want us to be together.

If you need to be held
Please, let me hold you
If you need to cry,
let me be the shoulder.

All you are I wish for me,
All I'll ever be I'll give to you,
Babe, I love you.

As Time Changes

Doesn't it seem so very strange,
how just a little time changes everything?
This morning as I awoke to the sound of a bell, everything was so perfect and not a bad thought to tell
But now as I lie in my bed trying to sleep,
my once bright, shining eyes now weep.
These reasons for my sadness I am not sure,
except to you breaking up seemed the only cure.
Our feelings of love we say have not changed,
but only the relationship is rearranged.
With just a little more time things will change again,
this time for the better, as a new life we begin.

Pam Martin

Had A Mind

Spirits told me, told me true, told me of love, told me of you, oh so sweet, so sweet those words, away we flew,
transformed as birds, darling softly, darling dream,
dream
of happiness, dream of cream, seeming in heaven, seeming alive, a seeking the love, a passionate survive,
lovely lady, lovely sight, off we've gone, off on new flight, soaring the realm, soaring the sea, soaring the limits, within you and me,
love
is the moral, love is the song, love is the feeling for which I long.

Love

Love has been described in many a way,
As a game to some, but others never play.
Once involved you'll never regret,
the feeling of love that is ever so great.
Love is not born in only one day,
but must gradually grow if it's to stay.
In your loved one place all your trust,
for if there is a relationship this is a must.
Never dominate the life of this lover,
for if you do he will seek another,
In this person you should confide,
your secret feelings, but never lie.
Remember this for as long as you live,
ask no more than you can give.

Pam Martin

You Are Who You Are

Don't act like you're something
When you know that you're not,
Just be yourself
And your friends won't get hot.
Don't ever be conceited,
No one likes a snob;
Never act too good for others,
You might just lose your job.
Always be yourself,
For no one likes a fake;
If only you could think this way,
It's friends I think we'd make.

The Match

He walked down the street,
So boldly and brave.
I knew if he beat,
I'd be in my grave.
He looked so mean,
He was so big,
Tall, not lean,
But stout as a pig.
He stopped where he stood,
And called my name,
He said he was good,
And the best at this game.
He hollered out, "Draw"
And so I did.
He made not a flaw,
As though would a kid.
I thought he was right,
He must have been the best.
But here tonight,
I also passed the test.
And then came the finals,
I proved I was the top.
For in these finals,
He had made one flop.
The flop was small,
Or at least to me,
But the judges all,
Did disagree.
I reached the goal I sought,
For I was lucky from the start,
But I had never thought,
Of winning freehand art.

A Dreaded Place To Go

Five days a week
Nine months a year
I go to a place
That makes me sneer
Every morning I get up at six
Off to the Kitchen
For breakfast I fix
I'll then take a shower
And wash my hair
Then brush my teeth
With Gentle care
Next I put on my clothes
And lock the back door
This same old routine that I so much bore
Then I grab my books
And then I review
All of the things
I thought I knew
Then I drive to this place
And I'm sure all of You'll Agree that it's dreaded
This place is called school

A Shining Light

It was upon a dreary day
The night still young
The sky was gray
But through this gloom, and weariness
I longed for something full of bliss
It seemed nothing was going right
All sunshine was out of sight
But there upon this day
Standing in my way
A hand was reaching out to me
With so much love it made me see
That through this gloom and weariness
A shining light did exist

Ed Miller
Junior

A Friend

Every day I long for someone
I can call a friend
A person who will stand by me
And help me through, thick and thin
Someone whom I can always trust
And who'll never let me down
A person whom I can depend on
When nobody else is around
Someone I can love, and show him all my fears
And with him not be ashamed
When out my eyes pour tears
But all I am doing is dreaming
So I guess I'll go on and pretend
That I do have this someone
This person called a friend

Dr. Tony Fillman, Principal of Sherman High School celebrated his eighth consecutive year at S.H.S. this school term. Fillman was quoted as saying, "I thought it was a real good year. We had a most co-operative student body and faculty."

Fillman is anticipating a good year next year. "We are not having many changes as far as faculty goes. It will be an interesting and productive year," Fillman concluded.

Teachers Guide Students Toward Goals

Today's teachers are finding that their greatest challenge is helping Sherman High School students achieve the goals for which students are striving.

Teachers at SHS are finding they enjoy their chosen profession.

Mrs. Donna Kumler stated, that she enjoyed teaching "because I like the students. I especially like students who try, have respect and a good sense of humor."

Mr. Q. D. Williams commented that he "liked the kids, and seeing them grow in knowledge."

The world of change is the world of teaching. Finding a change in the needs of students, teachers have tried to originate several different ways of teaching through the use of individual projects.

Miss Gene Loop commented that "teaching is the most convenient and immediate way of bringing about changes in our world that are positive, because you have the wisdom of the professionals dealing with the enthusiasm of the young."

Teachers at Sherman High also realized that there was no longer apathy and immaturity within the majority of the student body, but that now students are more mature in pursuing and fulfilling their future goals.

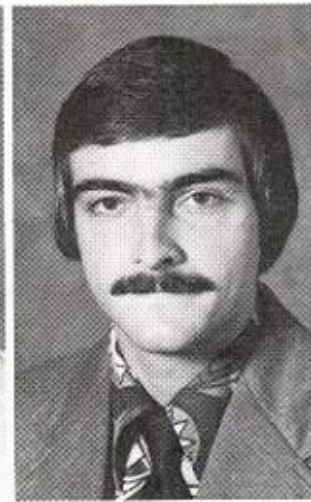

Mrs. Pauline Neblett said, "I like teaching because I like to work with young people. I like to see each student work to his fullest potential."

Perhaps Mrs. Margie Wilson best sums up the feelings of the SHS faculty when she commented that "I am happy that I am able to accept kids as they are. I've always loved working with kids; therefore, teaching is the greatest joy in my life."

Anna Jo Grant begins stirring beans.

S.H.S. Personnel

Each day, the ladies that work in the cafeteria try their hardest to prepare the students a delicious and hot meal. Students are given their choice between a light-lunch, fast-food, or a hot lunch.

In the light-lunch line students can have their pick between salad, soup, sandwiches, and crackers. Lemonade and grape drinks are also served.

Students now can enjoy a chili dog or hamburger along with french fries and a milkshake for sixty cents, in the fast-food line.

A variety of foods ranging from pizza to chicken fried steak is served in the hot lunch line, along with many other nutritional meals. Submarine sandwiches, barbecue on a bun, fried chicken, and spaghetti are just a few of the hot meals that are served each day for sixty cents.

Hank Brewer, building engineer of Sherman High School was quoted as saying, "Students don't seem to care a whole lot about the building, they seem to want to mess it up so someone else can clean it up." He and his fellow workers work to improve the appearance of the school.

The school also employs workers at night to vacuum and clean.

A lot of hard work goes into keeping the school clean and productive. Students can help by picking up trash in the halls and classrooms.

Mary Barr and Helen Ritchie take a break before beginning food preparation.

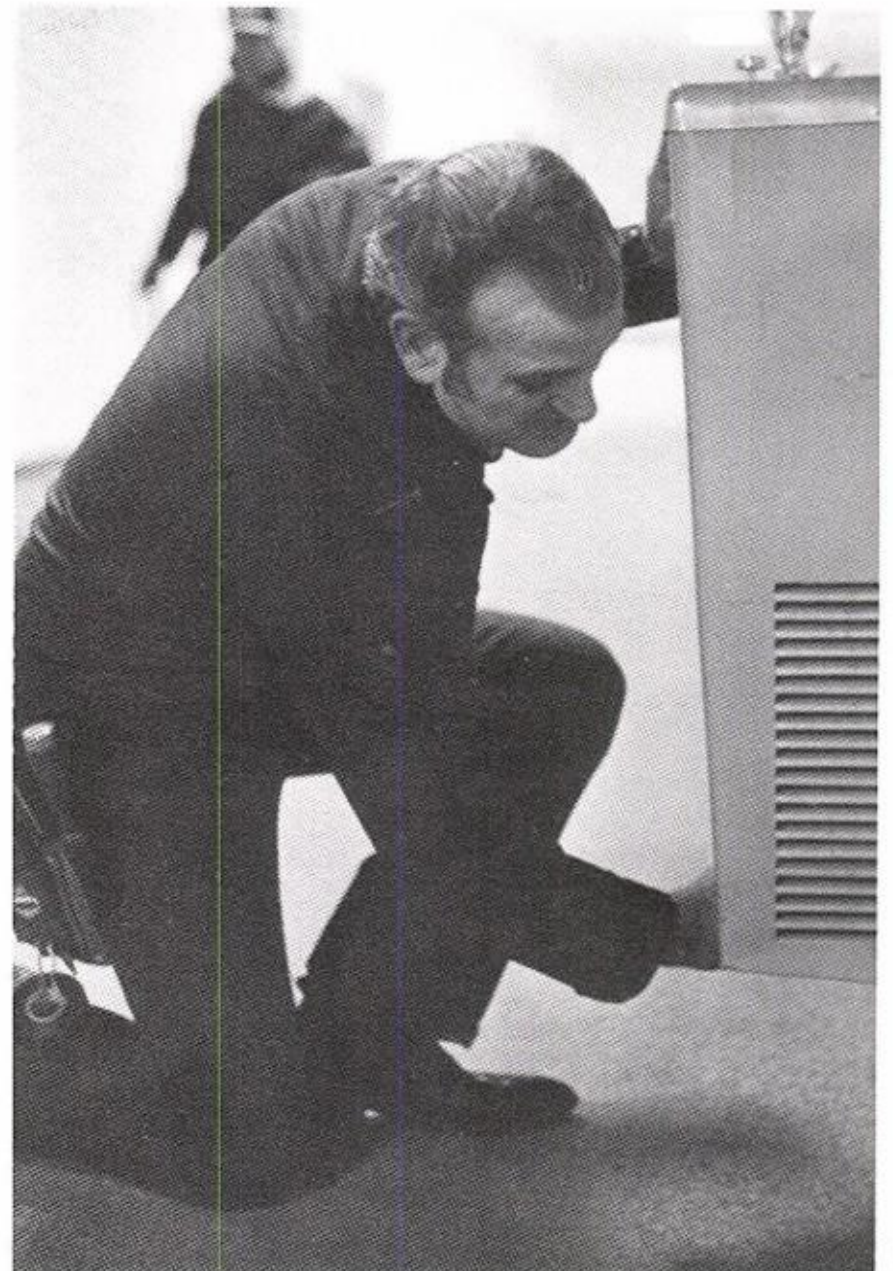

Audrey Walters stirs potatoes.

Jewel Smith opens package.

Alma Recter begins making sandwiches.

Hank Brewer checks water fountain.

We wish to thank all of the businesses and individuals that supported us this year. Without them this Athenian would not be possible.

We also ask that the student body support these businesses through the year.

ALISA EDWARDS, May you never lose the thrill of bringing the joy and happiness to others, that you have brought to your family these last seventeen years. In living, learn to discern permanence among a multitude of impermanent things. Love — MOTHER, DADDY, AND TRISSE.

KIM LUTZ: Remember the unhappiness and insecurity you felt when we left old friends and familiar places and moved to Sherman? You succeeded beautifully in acclimating to a new life and new friends, and we congratulate you now on this success and your graduation from high school. We love you, MOTHER AND DAD.

JANET LOYD: Hope that graduation day is truly wonderful for you — and that in years ahead all your dreams come true. The love and pride that words can't say go forth with you today — and every day. We love you so very much, MOM, DAD, JUDY, CELENA, AND DAVID.

SHERRY LEIGH CRAFT: We are proud of you. As you travel down life's pathway may you find peace, happiness and contentment in all you do. Love, Mother and Dad.

JACKIE: Congratulations on a job well done. Wishing you the best for your college years and for your future life. Our hope is that you may always keep God first in your life. With Love, Mom, Dad and Janet Price.

Congratulations, BILL, we are very proud of you and hope your future years will be as good as your past. Love, Mom and Dad Andrews.

To our special guy, WOODY: You proved yourself more than equal to the tasks, and we're proud of you. Congratulations. Our best wishes for your continued success in college. Dad, Mom, Debbie and Jo-Ann Hooley.

Congratulations, ARTHUR BABB III: Thank you, son, for all the respect you have shown us the past 18 years. You are truly a son to be proud of! Keep putting Jehovah first in your life and all the pressures of this world seem small. Love, Mom and Dad Babb.

KATHY: You have made us all very proud of you. From kindergarten through High School, From baby dolls to boy friends, from a shy little girl to a wonderful young woman, you are all any mother could ask for. We have had both good times and bad, but I hope the future holds happiness and greater joy than you have ever known; you deserve it. God bless you always. Love, Mom, Peggy, Steve, Debbie, Dale, Mike, and Shirley Dodd.

TIM WOOD: "A wise son maketh a glad father: but a foolish son is the heaviness of his mother." Prov. 10:1. Thanks for making me a glad father and for filling your mother's heart with joy. You are a choice blessing to your family. We thank God for you. Your family, Mom, Dad, Debbie, Mark.

WES: Living in glass houses has helped you to stop and consider the way of the world. Being on the move has fueled your sense of adventure. Whether you are living in solitude or chasing after your dreams, always know that you have a home in our hearts. Mom and Dad Ott.

RUTH ANN RIDDELS: May good health and good fortune, which you so richly deserve, be with you always. Mother and Daddy.

KEVIN FARLY: Best wishes for the future doesn't seem enough to say at a special time such as this. You have brought so much joy into our lives. Our hope is that the future will hold great fulfillment for you in whatever you do. Love, Mom and John.

CARL EHRLER: You've just completed the first step into your future. May they all be as promising, happy and rewarding as this one has been. Our congratulations and love, Mom, Sally and Russ.

LISA REID, Congratulations, we are proud of you; may the best of everything follow you thru life. LOVE, MOTHER, SYLIVA and AMY.

CARL CHANEY: Someone cares as we travel life's big road. Our dreams of great success will come to us if we live with faith and eagerness. The way we play our part in life and why we win or lose, depends to quite a large extent upon the path we chose. YOUR FAMILY.

BOBBYY RUBARTS, To God be the Glory! LOVE, MOTHER, DADDY, BECKY, BARRY, AND BRIAN.

Graduation Becomes Reality

The Athenian Staff would like to take this opportunity to apologize for the late arrival of the 1978 Athenian and all the pictures and cutlines that were left out. However, this book could not have been completed without the assistance of many people. Those contributing to the book included:

THE FACULTY: For allowing staffers to function in their haphazard way, letting them into class when they weren't supposed to be, and letting them out of class when they were supposed to be in.

CLUB, TEAM, AND GROUP SPONSORS, ADVISORS, AND OFFICERS: For putting up with repeated picture retakes for pictures that were never made, and repeated interviews.

TAYLOR PUBLISHING COMPANY: Who took our pages even though they were three and a half months late and illegible.

PHOTOGRAPHERS: We would like to give special thanks to David Hopper of The Sherman Democrat and to Action Shots for their outstanding assistance in providing the sports pictures. To Tommy Phipps, Terry Williams, ('78 graduates) and Lisa Wortham for the color pictures. Then there were the SHS photographers . . .

To our Taylor representative, Ed McMeans, for loaning the shoulder to cry on when things kept going wrong.

To Tim Hale for designing the cover.

Although this year was not a great one for the 1978 Athenian Staff we are viewing the future with an open mind attempting to pick up the pieces and anticipate better years in the future.
